

Alastair Leighton
AECOM

Biography

As Director of Cities in the AECOM Brisbane office, Alastair leads the design team in Queensland. He works across the disciplines of master planning, urban design and landscape architecture. His experience ranges from high level visioning and concept stages through to the detailed design and delivery of complex urban schemes, integrated infrastructure, destinations and campus environments. He has led integrated design teams for a number of significant landmark projects.

His creative design activity is underpinned with valuable practical experience of project and financial management through past experience as a management accountant.