

Brett Davis
Victorian Planning Authority

Biography

Brett has significant senior government and private industry experience in project management, urban and regional planning. Brett is a Fellow and past State President of the Planning Institute of Australia and has worked throughout Australia on numerous large-scale projects. His passion is regional planning and engagement with a focus on creating better spatial planning outcomes for our regions and peri-urban areas.