

Chloë Howorth
ACT Government

Biography

Chloë is currently Director of Urban Renewal in the ACT Government's Environment, Planning and Sustainable Development Directorate, where she leads the delivery of complex urban renewal projects. These projects involve the coordination of multiple policy outcomes, and high levels of community, industry and technical engagement from their inception through to planning, construction, and activation. She has worked in various roles including land development, statutory planning, strategic planning, and policy for both the Australian and ACT Governments and as a consultant.