

Mrs Julia Miller-Randle
Ethos Urban

Places for People: Build a Community Hub Workshop

Community hubs provide spaces, activities and services that support and foster social connections and promote health and wellbeing. They have never been more important at a time when urban populations are growing fast, our cities are densifying and technology is changing the way we live, learn and work.

What makes a successful community hub?

This hands-on interactive workshop will take participants through emerging and innovative models for community hubs delivery, drawing on our experience from across Australia and beyond. The session will tackle a range of key issues spanning good process, contemporary governance and management models and inclusive design. There will be time for participants to work together as we “build our own community hub” share stories and challenges and leave the session feeling more empowered to plan for dynamic community hubs that support thriving, liveable cities.