

Mark Fox
Sunshine Coast Council

Biography

Mark Fox's passion is making the business of planning better for all stakeholders, using his knowledge of the industry, ability to bridge business requirements and technical capabilities, and project manage to deliver positive change.

Mark began his professional career as a town planner before expanding into project management and business planning at Sunshine Coast Council.

Many of Mark's projects have focussed on expanding Sunshine Coast Council's online e-service solutions and is one of the key contributors to Development.i.