

Rukshan de Silva
NSW Department of Planning & Environment

Biography

Rukshan de Silva, RPIA, is a Canadian planner and economic developer, currently employed as an Executive Planner at the NSW Department of Planning and Environment in Sydney, Australia. Rukshan has an undergraduate degree in Planning and a graduate degree in Economic Development and Innovation, both from the University of Waterloo. Rukshan has experience in strategic planning, economic development, and international development, and integrated the three fields in his volunteer missions in Peru with the Federation of Canadian Municipalities.